GERMANTOWN FAIR.

A GOOD CROWD IN ATTENDANCE ON THE THIBD DAY.

An Old Fashioned Fair Managed by Hospitable People-Premiums Awarded in the Arena and Floral Hall.

The Germantown Fair is one of the oldest in the state. It is one of the old fashioned kind of fairs that it does one good to attend. Everybody goes with but one object—to have a good time. The management is composed of as nice and hospitable a set of gentlemen as one could wish to meet. Their guests are received and provided for in the true Kentucky Paris. style

A good crowd was in attendance yesterday, quite a number being on hand from this city. The show of horses, to which the day was devoted, was ex-cellent, the premiums in every ring being warmly contested for.

The event of the day was the fancy saddle ring, best saddle horse, mare or gelding, $100 to first, $70 to second and $30ate third. The first money was taken by Berry & Watson's mare, "Mollie Williams." She is said, by competent judges, to be the finest saddle animal ever exhibited at this fair. She is four years old and is a pretty sorrel with four years old and is a pretty sorrel with four white feet and bald face. She is striking in appearance and is admirably trained. She has been shown this season in thirtyseven rings and has taken thirty-five strings. She also took the premium, as a two year-old, in the aged ring at the St. Louis Fair. Altogether she is a valuable piece of horse flesh. Second money was taken by R. K. Winters and third by Joseph Walton.

Premiums in the arena were awarded as follows: HARNESS HORSES.

WHO IS THE OWNERS

An Important Suit Filed in the Circuit Court at Bowling Green, all through New York and Pennsyl-An interesting suit involving several thousand dollars and the title to some valuable property about one of the his-toric spots in the state was filed in the Circuit Court at Bowling Green. The suit is brought by one life-long friend against another, and the progress of the litigation will be watched with interest in many quarters of Kentucky. The defendant in the action referred to is Captain E. B. Seely, a well known gentleman, who made a fortune on the river in early days. He was a prominent member of the now defunct, but at one time famous, Green and Barren River Navigation Company, which, before dissolution, furnished the country with several sensations. The suit was filed by Captain Dave Campbell, and some of the best legal talent in the state has been retained in the case. The property in litigation is historic Kopley's Knob, more recently called Vinegar Hill, one of the prettiest resident portions of Bowling Green. Captain Campbell several years ago mortgaged the hill to Captain Seely, and the mortgage was eventually foreclosed. That was prior to the building of the big college and the increase in the property' value. Captain Seely has sold some thing like $18,604 worth of lots, and those remaining are valued at about the sum mentioned. The suit filed by Captain Campbell to regain possession of his share of the property is possibly the re-sult of its wonderful advancement in market value. etition the plaintiff alleges he has at all times been the rightful and legal owner of the disputed property and avers Captain Seely converted and appropriated to his own use several thousand dollars' worth of land. He seeks to other Canadian cities, fearing that the recover possession of the remaining lots and to recover judgment for the sum already paid to the ex-river man for lots

The message says the boy was enticed away by the tramps when a short distance from his home, and is probably held for ransom.
